LOCAL ELEVENS MEET.

Gallaudet Defeated Y. M. C. A. After

Beautiful weather and a game well advertised drew fully 4,000 spectators to National Purk y-sterday afternoon to witness the foot ball contest between the elevens représenting the Y. M. C. A. and Gallaudet Collège. The mutes came off victors by the score of 12 to 0, and are entitled to coudit for their clean playing and masterful rushing factics.

As early as 1 o'clock spectators began to enter the gates of the park, and at one time the line of ticket buyers extended down the lane from the park entrance to 7th the lane from the park entrance to 7th street. Most of the people present wore the colors of the two teams, and as they filled up the large space of the grand stand or crowded on the ropes surrounding the field.

6 pretty pleture was presented. The fair sex was represented in large numbers, the brilliancy of their costumes adding to the animated picture of life and color. The absence of encouraging yells was noticeable, the Gallaudet followers doing the best their linarmity allowed, but the Y. M. C. A. admerers falled to "get together in bunches," and as a result the encouragement given the teams generally came from the coachers and substitutes along the side lines.

The Gallaudet eleven were first on the field, and after a few minutes of tackles, passes and punts the boys drifted to their banch and passed the time viewing the spectators and chatfing in the silent language with their friends. The Y. M. C. A. came on the field late, it being but five minutes before pluy was started, and immediately after their short practice the centest was opened.

Nervousness marked the play of the association boys at the start, and at one time it looked as if a complete walk-over and a large score would fail to the lot of the mutes. Instead of tackling low, the Y. M. C. A. boys grasped their opponents around the shoulders or waist, and as a result, after the tackle was made, the ball would be carried several feet further before touching the ground. Later on the associations street. Most of the people present wore the after the tackle was made, the ball would be carried several feet further before touch-ing the ground. Later on the associations braced up considerably, instructions from the side lines being heeded, and as a re-sult a better game was witnessed. The tiallandets played with pugnacious energy from start to finish, and the wonder of it all is that their sectors was not began when a try was made for end play that strong opposition was encountered. Time after time the game would be stopped to more frequently to punting, as it seemed to them that their best gains or defensive stands were secured through this style of

The mutes were in prime condition and played with the right spirit and determin-ation, an absence of which would have given the contest to their opponents. Their team work was what made the individual play of their opponents go for nothing and prevented gains under the different tac-tics.

In the first half the Y. M. C. A. kicked off to their opponents' twenty-yard line and the ball was carried back ten. Both sites took turns at fumbling the ball and then the mutes pulled themselves together and in exactly eleven minutes of play rushed the ball over the line for a touchdown. Gelifus kicking the goal. At this point the Y. M. C. A. braced up, the nervousness being all knocked out of them, and the contest became a battle of giants. First one slie would push it down the field and then the other would rush it back and these tactics were on exhibition when the whistle sounded announcing the end of the first half.

The second half furnished the surprise to the experts of the game. It was almost the unanimous opinion that a procession of goals would follow the first kick off for the mutes, but notwithstanding the clever tactles they adopted they were met at every point by the association and downed with a hearty goodwill and dispatch Most of the different plays in the foot ball category were adopted by the two teams, gains being made by each, but fully twenty minutes had gone by and yet not a goal had been reached. With but five minutes of play the association made the mistake of not punting, as heretofore noted, and as a result lost the ball on downs and stalwart Waters was pushed over the line and as a feshit lost the ball on downs and stalwart Waters was pushed over the line and as a feshit lost the ball on downs and stalwart Waters was pushed over the line and as a feshit lost the ball on downs and stalwart Waters was pushed over the line and as a feshit lost the ball on downs and stalwart waters was pushed over the line and as a feshit lost the ball on downs and stalwart waters was pushed over the line and as a feshit has the final whistle was sounded and the struggle for the day was over.

OUT-OF-TOWN GAMES.

Pennsy Defeated Cornell and the In-

The big out-of-town games yesterday furnished many surprises. The Pennsylvania hads braced up to such an extent as to defeat the Cornell eleven by the score of 29 to 0, and played in such wonderful form as to receive the unstituted praise of their opponents. When it is considered that cornell defeated Princeton early in the season, and that Pennsy was easy for several second-class teams, the full extent of the surprise can be realized. The Cornell lasts failed to secure a first down during the entire game, while the Penn boys (Continued on Twelfth Page.) dians Columbia. (Continued on Twelfth Page.)

A January Sale in December

Including Ladies' Jackets, Imported Model Coats Misses' Suits, and Children's Dresses.

Custom relegated these clearances to January. But precedent cannot rule us in contradiction of our best business judgment. entirely too heavy—due entirely to the weather conditions, that you understand as well as we do. We know we've got this loss to face—and we are going to face it now-tomorrow-and give you thirty days' better advantage. That's the reason for the sale.

And here is what the sale comprises—

We have designated for sacrifice:

300 Ladies' Fine Winter Jackets. 53 Imported Model Coats. 150 Misses' Suits (ages up to 18 years). 74 Children's Dresses (ages 4 to 14 years). Also what are left of the Girls' Gretchens. There's to be one clear sweeping cut that means just exactly

One-third Off the Regular Marked Prices.

It's a reduction you can figure as readily as we can, for the original tickets are still on the garments. An important point to be considered is that these garments are part and parcel of our regular stock-all new, fresh goods-made expressly for usand not a manufacturer's odds and ends-or, worse yet, made for a special sale. With the weather that was to be expected during the period of late October and November there wouldn't have been one too many-and this terrible slaughtering would not -could not have taken place. However, little matters the reason to you, when you are assured of the superlativeness of the values and the genuineness of the offering. That such an event has never taken place before should whet the keener your interest in it. While for us it precludes the possibility of our carrying over into next any of the present season's stock.
